

AR AND SHOOTING ACCESSORIES

John Russo

I don't know about you, but I enjoy checking out new gun accessories as much as I do new guns. Maybe it is because there are so many of them, or maybe it is because we end up buying a lot more accessories than we do actual firearms. Either way, there was no shortage of cool new stuff on the market. Here's a few worth taking a look at.

RELIA-BOLT

The Relia-Bolt from SRC is a newly designed, custom bolt for AR-15 type rifles. It is made from S7 tool steel greatly increasing its strength and then coated with the excellent NP3 finish by Robar, which makes carbon fouling simply wipe off and the need for lubrication obsolete. What makes it unique though is the redesigned lugs. They are rounded and tapered, giving the bolt a patented camming action, allowing it to continue into battery even past carbon buildup or other debris you may find in your barrel extension. I tried it on a rifle I was having feeding and chambering issues and it ran perfectly. The SRC Relia-Bolt also has a lifetime warranty ensuring it will last longer than your gun will.

PRESENT ARMS GUNNER'S MOUNT

I have been working on guns for over 20 years and have used a great number of armorer's tools and bench blocks. So when Mark Jenkinson started to show me the Gunner's Mount firearm workstation, I had my defenses up. It took about a minute for them to fall and for me to become an immediate fan. This is the real deal and truly created by someone who has worked on guns. The Gunner's Mount is a non-marring, polymer synthetic base platform for a series of accessories aimed at your specific firearm. Much of it is aimed at AR's and I put it to good use building seven complete AR's on it. My time was literally cut in half thanks to this phenomenal tool. A few of the features are: cut-outs for AR-charging, handle latch change outs, AR upper and lower mounts which allow the easiest access to all the pins, various handgun mounts allowing you to work on the receiver in a fixed position, and a family of Gunner's Pucks, which allows a full 360-degree of rotation of each insert. If you work on guns, check out their website to get a full understanding of how great the Gunner's Mount really is!

UNIQUE AR'S

I love building AR's, especially when I get to try out new parts. It's even better when the parts are custom made for my gun. The guys at Unique AR's make steel and aluminum handguards for AR's in a variety of colors. What makes them unique is the fact they have a load of premade designs to choose from or they can custom cut the handguard with whatever design or logo you desire. Check out their website and you will be amazed at the stuff they have come up with.
